

Satellites, Rockets Delayed By Expense, Says Scientist

Copenhagen —(INS)—The president of the International Astronautical Federation declared Sunday a lack of money was the only factor preventing immediate launching of an earth satellite, or even rocket ships.

Frederick Durant, president of the society, made the statement in Copenhagen on the eve of a week-long meeting of scientists interested in space travel.

He said:

"We could get outside the earth's gravitation fields to-day with existing conventional chemical propellants. It's simply a matter of cost."

Durant, an American, stressed that President Eisenhower's satellite program brought the space travel problem into what he termed the "clear focus of public opinion." He said the President's decision also "vindicated" those "who for years have worked for a solution to this problem."

Military Race For Space Feared

Stockholm — (INS) — A famous Swedish astronomer said Sunday the news that America planned to launch an earth satellite within two years filled him with "gloom."

Prof. Knut Lundmark, former head of the astronomy department at Lund University, said he feared the next step might be the establishment of space stations which would lead to an international struggle for advantages.

Group Backs Vote Ousting All Council

The Harris County Council of Organizations, which represents an estimated 19,000 voters, Sunday endorsed the Citizens Charter Committee amendment.

The amendment, No. 19 on the ballot in the Aug. 16 election, would end the present terms of office for the mayor, councilmen, and controller and call a city election Nov. 19 to fill the positions.

The Negro organization met in the McDonald Bldg. 618 Prairie, and unanimously endorsed the amendment which had been recommended to it by a screening committee.

The president of the council is M. L. Ward of 2801 McGowen.

The power of prayer

Asa Christian, Madame Chiang Kai-shek prayed daily. But—like many of us—she found it hard to "love thy enemies," or feel Christ really died for her.

In August Reader's Digest she tells the moving story of how she finally found true faith... and why she believes small daily prayer groups can help the whole world find peace.
